WPA WORK PLANNED DURING COMING YEAR

JULY FOURTH PLANS BRINGS GOOD PROGRAM

All Day Event Planned Will Have Attractive Features For People of All Ages

ENTERTAINMENT

Citizens Asked to Bring Lunches and Spend the Day as Guests of the City

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Fourth of July committee will be held today in order to complete plans for the big day's celebration which will be held in Canyon.

Directors of the Chamber were in session last night and are highly pleased at the interest which is being taken by the people in the celebration.

An inexpensive celebration, where there will be plenty of fun and frolic without the necessity of the outlay of a lot of money on the part of the people is the plan of the local citizens.

From morning to night on July Fourth the people of Canyon will act as host to the people of Randall county.

The program will start early in the morning, and citizens are requested to bring their lunches and enjoy the shade of the court house lawn during the noon hour.

W. A. Warren, president of the Chamber of Commerce, wishes to announce the full and complete program to the people of Randall county next week. In the meanwhile he urges that all citizens make their plans to spend the day in Canyon.

Dr. John Casey In Closing Lectures Praises the City

Dr. John H. Casey ended his week in Canyon Saturday afternoon, concluding the news clinic which was conducted for five days.

"This is a fine country town, a wonderful college, and most cordial people," stated Dr. Casey as he left for Nacogdoches where he is conducting a similar course this week.

Dr. Casey met with members of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night and discussed community problems. "Getting the people to come to Canyon and keeping Canyon people at home to do their trading is your problem," stated Mr. Casey.

He compared Canyon with other towns where problems had been met by enterprising citizens who went after propositions.

Among the things which should be stressed by Canyon were the natural resources, beauty of the Palo Duro, the exceedingly fine water. Building a good hotel seemed the most pressing commercial venture. Stressing the quiet, cultural advantages will make the town attractive. Developing some institution that will make Canyon the best known town in Texas will attract many people.

Dr. Casey pointed to towns which had become famous through one exceptionally fine eating place; one outstanding church with attractive services; one exceptionally high class store. He hoped Canyon would develop one of these attractive features.

Dr. Casey spoke to the correspondents of The News and other newspapers Friday afternoon. "Old Tack and other nationally known columnists are simply glorified country correspondents," stated Mr. Casey. These writers attract attention because they discuss the little things of life in which every one is interested. He called attention to the fact that nearly every one is interested in farm news because most of us hail from the farm.

Miss Wilmoth Gamble of Chicago visited at the parental J. D. Gamble home during the past week. She left Tuesday for Dallas where she will visit the Centennial before returning to Chicago.

Friends of Clint Small Organized In Meeting Wed.

Friends of Senator Clint Small from various counties of the Panhandle met in Amarillo last night to form an organization which will carry on an intensive campaign during the coming month for the re-election of the Senator. Clyde Warwick was chosen as chairman of the meeting and presented the facts of the campaign.

Expressions from the various citizens from over the Panhandle indicated that Senator Small would be re-elected by a large majority. "The friends of Senator Small are not afraid of his defeat, but we feel that the largest complimentary vote ever cast a man in Texas should be given by the people of this district as an indication of the friendship and confidence which the people hold for our Senator, and the fine work he has done," was the sentiment expressed by various speakers.

Sid O'Keefe, uncle of Senator Small's opponent, made one of the most forceful talks, as he reviewed his relationship with the opponent. "I am for Clint Small because I know both men and have been associated with Mr. Douglass as his partner."

An intensive campaign has been started, which will take the issues to the people of the district, telling them of the work which Senator Small has been doing for the benefit of the people of this district.

Women Members of Faculty Recognized Bulletin Publication

Women of W. T. faculty received recognition for their various publications from the editors of the "Texas Division Bulletin," American Association of University Women, in a recent edition of that bulletin.

Dr. Hattie M. Anderson, professor of American History at W. T., and Miss Jean Moore, professor of Education, have published in the last few months a "Directed Study Guide in Texas History for Grade Six."

Ada V. Clark, member of the music faculty has published, in collaboration with Wallace R. Clark, a "Text for Music in the Grades."

Darthula Walker, head of the department of Geography is author of the "Texas Supplement" for the recently adopted seventh grade Geography.

Recent magazine articles written by women of the College faculty include "Mirages in Educational Institutions," by Miss Edna Graham, professor of mathematics, published in the "Texas Outlook," and "Canyon Youngsters Hold Centennial Exposition" by Ruth Lowes and Novella Goodman, associate professors of Education; "The Palo Duro State Park," by Mrs. T. V. Reeves, published in the "Texa s Federation News"; "Canyon—The Home of the First College in Northwest Texas," also by Mrs. Reeves and printed in the "Texas Centennial Magazine."

Park Board Will Visit Palo Duro Park on Tuesday

Members of the Texas State Parks Board will spend next Tuesday visiting the Palo Duro State Park unless changes are made in their plans during the coming few days.

Chairman Pat M. Neff and members of the board will leave Austin this week on an inspection trip of several parks in the state.

While in the Panhandle, headquarters will be established at the Palo Duro, but trips will be made to the Palisades and to the Hereford State Park.

BOOSTING FOR LANDON

O. L. Coleman claims to be the first Landon booster in Randall county. As soon as word came of the nomination, Coleman had "Landon for President" painted on his car, which sign will remain during the campaign. Mr. Coleman says he is not so much for Landon as he is against Roosevelt.

TO HOSPITAL

J. B. Morrisset was taken to an Amarillo Sanitarium Saturday for medical treatment. He has been sick for the past several days.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

Crop Loans Will Be Made Farmers Up to $200 Each

Many Applications Are Being Made as Planting Time Is Rapidly Advancing in County

Emergency crop loans on 1937 wheat are being made through the same committee arrangement as that used for the past two years.

Applications may be filed with the clerk at the crop loan office at the court house.

The limit that may be loaned to any one farmer is $200.00. An attempt is being made to get an increase in this amount.

Authorities in charge of crop loans for this district are very hopeful that the amount will be raised.

Candidate Governor Makes Talk in Canyon This Morning

F. W. Fischer of Tyler, candidate for governor, who says oil, gas, sulphur and other natural resources should be taxed to pay every old man and woman over 65 a pension of $15 a month, spoke this morning in Canyon at 10:00 o'clock. He was the first candidate for a major state office to visit here, and was heard by a number of voters.

Fischer promises a "new deal for taxpayers" in his plan for raising revenue inasmuch as the present enormous tax burdens lie heavily on farms, ranches and other real estate, he points out.

In addition to paying old age pensions, taxing natural resources would, he says, provide means for lifting the state ad valorem tax off of all real estate and increasing the school funds to pay teachers higher salaries. Since 90% of Texas' resources are shipped out of Texas to be used by other states and foreign countries, citizens in those areas would pay 90% of the state's taxes, Fischer says.

Primary Election To Have Short Ballot

Executive Committee In Meeting Monday Makes Plans—2 Voting Places in Canyon

Voters of Randall county will be confronted by a much shorter primary election ballot this year than is customary.

Only 35 candidates are running for state office this year. In five instances, there are no opponents to the incumbents.

Ten local candidates are unopposed.

The County Executive Committee met Monday to arrange the ballots, make assessments against candidates, and to appoint election judges for the coming two primary elections.

No surprise candidates entered the primary in Randall county. All of those who had expressed their intention of making the race had filed by Friday, although the final date for this filing was on Saturday.

The candidates must pay their fee to Clyde Warwick, County Chairman, by Saturday of this week in order to have their names printed on the ballots. Owing to the small number of candidates, the filing fees are higher this year than in the past.

The Executive Committee decided to have only two polling places in Precinct No. 1 this year, instead of four as has been the practice in past elections. The Canyon precinct will be divided east and west, by 16th Street, which runs north and south on the east side of the court house. Those living west of 16th Street will vote at the court

Larger Crowd at Weekly Feature in Canyon Yesterday

A 50 per cent larger crowd was in Canyon yesterday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock for the weekly cash distribution event which is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Forty business firms in the city are co-operating in this weekly event.

The weekly event will continue on Wednesday next week, but for the first week in July this event will be staged on Saturday, July 4th at 3:00 o'clock.

One of the $20 bills was not called for yesterday, making the cash available for next Wednesday $60 instead of the usual $40.

Business firms of Canyon are highly pleased with the response which is being shown by the people of the county for this weekly event.

Hot Weather Over Panhandle Hits During This Week

The temperature ranged near the 100 degree mark this week, standing at 99 Tuesday and 102 degrees above zero yesterday afternoon. However, with all the moisture in the ground, and with very little wind the high temperature is not the biting sort which usually hits the Panhandle at this time of the year.

A light rain of .18 of an inch came Friday morning on top of the inch rain which was enjoyed Thursday.

Farmers are exceedingly busy killing weeds and getting their row crops planted.

Bonds Delivered Monday Morning Ex-Service Men

A Pleasant Surprise Is Sprung by Government By Getting Bonds Here Ahead of Time

Canyon ex-service men were among the first in the state to receive their bonus bonds. Most of the bonds came in Monday morning.

In spite of the warning by the government, the bonds were shipped out of Dallas earlier than was expected, and Canyon ex-service men received an agreeable surprise Monday morning when notified that the bonds were here and that they could be secured at the postoffice. The postoffice clerks did not know that the government was shipping the bonds early until the registered mail was opened Monday morning, and the letters containing the bonds were discovered.

Sixty-six ex-service men received their bonds Monday and Tuesday. It is expected that all of the other bonds will be received during this week. There are about 100 men who receive their mail at Canyon who are to receive the bonds.

Postmaster Guy Harp gave quick service to those who wished to ship the bonds back to Dallas to exchange for checks, and all of the bonds received Monday and Tuesday were shipped out the same day as delivered to the ex-service men.

Several of the large towns put on quite a demonstration, and went to a lot of trouble in handling the bonds, but the bonds were handled here without demonstration, confusion or delay, simply as a part of the routine duties for the day.

Patrick Discusses Sound Currency at W. T. Wednesday

W. H. Patrick of Clarendon spoke to students of W. T. June 17, on "The Federal Reserve Banking System." Mr Patrick is a commercial banker in Clarendon and a member of the board of governors of the Eleventh Federal Reserve District, with central bank in Dallas.

"It is a crime," spoke Mr. Patrick, "for any government to allow its monetary values to so fluxuate that it is impossible to foretell an approximate value of a commodity in relation to the money values of the country." This stabilizing of the dollar, according to the speaker, would better encourage transactions hinging on future prospects.

Mr. Patrick traced briefly the monetary history of the country, laying particular emphasis on the conditions that brought about the necessity for a central control of the country's money—the ultimate Federal Reserve System, and outlined the broad functions and powers of the Federal Reserve Board.

School Band Makes First Appearance Saturday Afternoon

R. G. Stevenson brought his school band to the public square Saturday afternoon for the first summer concert. The band played for an hour starting at five o'clock.

The band during the summer is composed of grade school boys and girls who are working hard daily. In addition to the daily practices of the entire band, Mr. Stevenson is giving individual instruction to the members for several hours daily.

The band is pointing toward the Fourth of July celebration in Canyon when it will have an important part in the day's program.

ELECTED SECRETARY

Miss LaTrice Quattlebaum was elected Secretary of the Young People's Methodist Conference at the annual assembly of the group which was held at Abilene recently. Miss Quattlebaum has been district director for the past year. Approximately 30 from the Amarillo District attended the Abilene meeting.

SATURDAY SET AS DEAD LINE NEW PROJECTS

Work Will Continue In Nation During New Year Which Starts on First of July

176 WORKERS HERE

Campus, City and Public School Projects to Be Submitted From Randall County

WPA will continue after July 1st with plans for 176 men to be employed in Randall county. This definite information was given local authorities this week, with instructions to have in the district office at Amarillo by Saturday night of this week projects which will use that number of men for the coming year.

Local authorities recently met with A. A. Meredith, district director, and outlined the work which they are hopeful for having completed during the coming year. These were approved, and details are now being worked out so that the projects may be submitted to Mr. Meredith by Saturday.

Completion of widening Fourth Avenue and completion of the campus work are the first projects for the new year.

Amarillo men are working on the excavation of the basement of the Museum addition, and this will be completed by the middle of July.

Completion of the rock wall around Buffalo Stadium and the rock wall entirely around Buffalo Field are the major projects which will be presented for the campus. Street work, and finishing the projects now underway will be carried on to completion.

After the present street work is completed in the city, additional projects will be undertaken, including the loop around the public school building, filling the gap on Sixth Avenue, and building the loop starting on Seventh at the highway, running east to the C. H. Jarrett home, and then north to the entrance of the administration building.

The public schools will submit 15 projects, including a rock wall around grounds, painting, repairing the roofs, work on the gymnasium, weather strips, and completing the

WPA Workers Will Hear Harry Hopkins Saturday Afternoon

WPA workers and friends are invited to the district court room Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock to hear an address by Harry Hopkins, coming over the radio from Washington. Mr. Hopkins is head of the WPA, and has an interesting message for all who are interested in the future work of WPA.

Frank Harrison, county supervisor, hopes that all interested in WPA projects will hear the address over the radio which will be installed for this purpose.

BENNETT PLEASED WITH PROSPECTS FOR CROPS

County Commissioner W. E. Bennett stated Tuesday that the crop prospects were the brightest in a number of years. While some fear has been expressed that hot winds might damage the wheat, Mr. Bennett believes there is so much moisture in the ground that there is very slight possibilities of hot winds until after the wheat is harvested.

The possibility of black rust and the large amount of weeds in the wheat are the only things Mr. Bennett sees. The row crop should be the largest in a number of years, believes Mr. Bennett.

REMODELING STORE

The store building occupied by Cooper's "M" System is being remodeled this week, with a new front being installed. The door will be changed to the north part of the building, and the show window display will be improved.

A MISTAKE OF AMARILLO LABOR

Several Panhandle newspapers keep up a running fight against Amarillo and the policy of some Amarillo people. The Canyon News has not indulged in such attacks, because we have always believed that such methods would be similar to a little yapping poodle attacking a big German police. Amarillo is the big town of Northwest Texas and will continue to grow, regardless of what other towns think about it.

But ever so often things do come up which causes one to wonder at the selfishness of people in the cities, and the prejudice they hold toward the little town.

Several large construction jobs have been done in Canyon by Amarillo and Lubbock contractors. They imported a number of men for the jobs—men who had been with the contractors for a number of years, and men for whom they had special jobs. Canyon laborers said nothing about it, filed no protests, but wondered why Canyon laborers were not given a chance.

While Stafford Hall was under construction, Amarillo labor unions threatened to tie up the job unless the contractors paid the maximum wage as set out by PWA, rather than the minimum which was entirely adequate and the prevailing wage of this section. Rather than run the risk of a strike, Mr. Maxey of Lubbock paid the additional price, and lost money on the job. He took it on the chin because of the unfair attitude of Amarillo labor.

When Mr. Lambie started the addition to Cousins Hall, practically all his labor came from Amarillo, and no objections were raised. During the construction of this job, and the ten cottages which are underway, he found four Canyon men whom he wished to use on the building he is erecting for J. Ray. He took the men to Amarillo for particular jobs. At the same time Amarillo men were coming to Canyon to work for him on the ten cottages.

But the fact that four Canyon men were employed in Amarillo did not suit Amarillo laborers. A protest was filed with Lambie, and finally with Mr. Ray, and rather than run the risk of a strike, the four Canyon men were fired and sent home.

At the same time 70 Amarillo men were being brought here on WPA jobs. Canyon is not objecting to these men coming here, since the people are anxious to get these jobs done. But if Canyon were to assume the same selfish attitude that Amarillo labor has assumed and demand that all Canyon labor be done by Canyon men, then 70 Amarillo fellows would be out of a job just to spite the firing of 4 Canyon men.

The selfishness and unreasonableness of many city labor leaders are responsible for many of the inconsistencies which exist today. It has been responsible for the open shop movement of the big cities. The publisher of a daily newspaper recently told us of the great increase of the cost of production of his newspaper, in spite of dwindling revenues, all on account of unreasonable demands of the unions.

Organized labor made the foolish demand of the President under WPA of the prevailing wage scale. The union man who is qualified for his labor, has spent years in training for his job, and who must take work when there is work and lay off when there is no work, should not be classified with the WPA laborer who claims he is of the same trade, who has no responsibility on his job, and has no right to the same wage that the highly trained man receives.

As the largest city in Northwest Texas, Amarillo has assumed the role of good neighbor to the little towns of the Panhandle. Such a selfish attitude of organized labor, certainly does not justify the title which should be given to our big neighbor.

Soap box orators always use one pet phrase, "the subsidized press which will not print the truth." That is a damnable lie, and is as far from the truth as to charge that there is a subsidized pulpit or a subsidized school room. In the first place, just think how utterly impossible it would be to "buy up" the press of America, thousands of daily and weekly newspapers, hundreds more of magazines and periodicals, all of which deal in human facts. The newspaper is the first in the community to small rottenness, social or economic. No newspaper could long exist which did not uphold the rights of its fellow man; no newspaper could exist with public graft and greed as the foundation of its mission. The soap box orator seeks to deceive the public. Through his lying mouth he charges others while attempting to sell his own shady proposition to an unsuspecting public. The press of America is free, outspoken and stands for the rights of the great common people of this nation. The constitution of the United States guarantees a free press. Time has been that crooked political leaders have attempted to curb the press, but have wound up by being curbed themselves. The next time you hear this infamous lie being uttered, brace yourself against the propoganda which the orator is about to unload. The merits of his proposal will not stand alone. It must be propped with the malicious attack upon a great national institution, a free and uncontrolled press.

It is unfortunate that the man in office must bear all of the criticism which may be directed against everything which may not suit the voter. Chances are he had nothing to do with the measure which riles up the voter, but what difference does that make? He is the poor office holder, and therefore due for sound rebuke. Every President who is running for a second term is criticised unjustly for everything that does not suit the individual voter, regardless of the good he may have accomplished, or the splendid measures which he attempted to put into effect. The same is true with our United States Senators and Congressmen; with our Governors and State Senators and Representatives; the men holding local offices are not held up for quite so much ridiculous criticism since the voter is on the ground and can see for himself the handicaps under which the office holders labor. Be fair to the candidates this year, from the President down; those who have accomplished things worthwhile are not entitled to the criticism which is usually directed against them; those who have done nothing should not have been elected in the first place.

Dr. John H. Casey, noted journalist and teacher in the University of Oklahoma, spent last week in Canyon. The News has known him by reputation for many years, but this was the first time to meet him. Mr. Casey said many nice things about The Canyon News while here; the completeness and cleanliness of the plant; the community service being rendered; the type of newspaper being printed week after week. "The Canyon News ranks high among the upper 10% bracket of newspapers in the United States," stated Mr. Casey. This compliment is highly appreciated, coming from a man whose life work has been the study of country journalism, a man who has read all of the leading country newspapers in the United States. Words for this high praise fail the writer, but if The News is a newspaper of such high standing, it simply reflects the town and county in which it is published. A newspaper cannot rise much above the community in which it is published. On the whole, newspapers are the most accurate reflectors which exists in any community.

The Republicans have nominated Landon and Knox to lead the fight against Roosevelt and Garner. Considering the smooth manner in which the Republican convention went off, the nation wonders whether two good men were placed on the ticket just for political murder, or the Republicans really have a faint hope in winning the election. The strongest party men were shunted to the background. But regardless of the November election, which looks easy for Roosevelt, the middle west and southwest may rest assured that whoever are the winners, the farmers will be recognized in Washington. Landon is a farmers' man, perhaps not to the degree that President Roosevelt has shown himself to be, but the farmers will be heard at Washington until such a time as Congress over rides the will of the White House.

Eugene Worley, fine young State Representative from the district to our east, goes to the Democratic National Convention as a delegate from Texas. He proposes to offer a resolution condemning the motion picture of Dr. Tugwell which has caused such a furor in the Panhandle. More power to Mr. Worley; but he will find conditions in the National Convention harder to handle than in the legislature of Texas. Worley's resolution will probably be promptly squashed by the resolutions committee as a slap directed at the administration, and if offered from the floor will promptly be relegated to the waste paper basket. However, Panhandle folks are pleased that the national convention will be told by Panhandle people that the picture is objectionable, a libel on this section, and cannot possibly be of any benefit to the people of the nation.

Citizens of Canyon are called upon to begin thinking seriously about the future of the Randall County Public Library. The institution is hardly three years old, yet it is one of the most popular institutions in the city. The number of readers is increasing faster than the number of volumes may be secured for their benefit. Room in the library is the big factor just now. Before another year the library will have outgrown its present quarters in the court house. Where shall it be placed then? Citizens should begin seriously thinking about the future of this institution. A separate building would be the logical solution, but the matter of finances would be a most serious handicap to such a movement.

The candidates are starting to make the rounds. Various candidates for state office will visit Canyon during the coming month, and to each of them the voters should give careful attention. The voter should bear in mind that the candidate speaking for himself will most certainly recommend himself mighty highly to the voters, but nevertheless any man who starts out to see the six million people of Texas deserves the sympathetic hearing of the people whether or not the voter may agree with what the candidate advocates.

Even the United States News, rank foe of President Roosevelt, and to which the New Deal is poison, admits that the national election this year will cause very little ripple on the sea of business. Congress has done practically all that it will accomplish this session, so this organ argues, and business leaders have nothing more to fear. But it holds out the veiled threat to look out for after election effects if Roosevelt is re-elected. That is a splendind ghost story.

One political guess is as good as another this early in the game. Our guess is that the natural prejudice of the East against Farmer Landon will make it possible for New Yorker Roosevelt to carry many of the doubtful Eastern states; that the farmers of the middlewest will hesitate to trade horses in the middle of the stream; that Roosevelt will be re-elected by a very large majority. Now what's your guess?

A victim of hay fever suggested that now is the time for all good citizens to cut the luxuriant weed crop which is growing in Canyon. The big rains mean big weeds, and many of them if citizens do not get busy right now. Never has there been so many mosquitoes in Canyon as there are now, mostly living in the shelter of the big weeds. Let's cut the weeds, and keep the town clean this spring.

Conditions in Europe will cause more unrest and fear among the business leaders of the United States than will the presidential election. A few years ago business sought the storm cellar on election years; but is now emerging from the storm cellar after the long years of depression, and is not scared at a little thing like a political election.

Since the Republican party came into existence in 1856 it has won 14 national elections, while the Democratic party has won only 6 times.

Republicans Cheer Landon's Nomination

One of the most thrilled participants in the celebration that followed the nomination of Alfred M. Landon as Republican presidential hope was little Miss Eleanor Duane, aged 3, of Cleveland, who rode on the shoulders of an enthusiastic Landon supporter.

Wilmer Waggoner, who was injured in an automobile crash when a group of the college band members were returning from Tucumcari last spring, was dismissed from the Northwest Texas Hospital last week. He was taken to his home in Childress.

Miss Isabel Robinson and Miss Marian O'Brian attended the reception given Esther Johnsson, pianist, at the home of Fred Welpton, in Amarillo, Thursday.

A car parked in a London street occupies a site with capital value of nearly $100,000, and the traffic department appoints itself the landlord.

If a man becomes a cynic, he may as well shoulder the responsibility, for it is his.

PEOPLE

MAKE THE TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Poles and wires and switchboards alone don't make a telephone system. You've got to have people.

You've got to have men and women and children that want to talk with each other. You've got to have operators sitting night and day before the switchboards. You need to have linemen willing to go out when the lines are down, and work with a 40-mile gale lashing sleet and snow into their faces.

It's folks that make a telephone system. When you figure out why service is better than it used to be, you find it's just people at work—men working problems out on American Telephone & Telegraph Company's staff, and inventors in Bell Laboratories, and the like.

The goal of the people who work for the Bell System is to furnish the people who use telephones with a service that is fast, and clear, and moderate in its cost to the user.

Miss Dix's Fan Mail

In her newspaper fan mail of 200 to 1,000 letters a day, Miss Dorothy Dix receives many unusual requests for advice.

Here is one from a woman who said, "My husband keeps telling me to go to hell. Have I a legal right to take the children?"

Another one is about a girl going out with a young man and having a great many cocktails and highballs and wine and liquor, and she said, "Did I do wrong, Miss Dix?" I wrote her, "Probably."

Other fan requests:

"Can you have freckles and sex appeal at the same time?"

"He is colder than electric refrigeration. Please tell me how to defrost him."

"I use Listerine, Life Bouy soap and Lux, and still have no boy friends."

"The papers say you answer anything. What are bats good for? When will the next war start? Will I get married, and if I do how many children will I have and of what sex?"

"Having a Technique"

"You speak of girls having a technique with boys. Just where do you buy the technique and how do you use it?"

"She drives her own car, wears a fur coat, and, in fact, lives like any other stenographer."

"Please tell me how to create sex appeal; in other words, how to look hot and keep cool."

"He told me to give in or walk home, and as it was raining very hard and I didn't have a raincoat, what was there for me to do?"

"For the enclosed five cents please send me self-confidence and sex appeal."

"My child's father is married but I am not. What is my relationship to my child's father?"

"Act Indifferent"

"My husband plasters my head against the wall and pounds me until I am black and blue, but my mother advises me to pay no attention to him and to act indifferent."

"Of course, we have spats as all married couples do, and once I broke her ribs, but we have never had any disagreements of a serious nature."

"There is a great void in my life to be filled, so I have fallen madly in love with a dentist."

"I am turning to you for advice as I certainly can't discuss these personal matters with God."

Miss Marion Hill Becomes Bride of Mr. Lemore Hill of Amarillo

On Tuesday evening, June 16, one of the most interesting and beautiful weddings ever witnessed in Canyon was that in which Miss Marion Hill, daughter of Dr. J. A. Hill, President of the West Texas State Teachers College, and Mrs. J. A. Hill, became the bride of Mr. Lemore Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hill of Amarillo at the bride's home in Canyon.

The pre-nuptial music consisted of a violin solo, Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," by Miss Louise Shirley and a vocal solo, "O Promise Me," by Miss Ada V. Clark with Miss Frances Usery as accompanist.

The ceremony was performed in the garden using the flower banked fountain with an arch decorated in smilax and baby's breath as the background. The aisle was marked off by baskets of varicolored garden flowers. The processional, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," was played by Miss Usery.

The bridal party was preceded by little Joan Hill, niece of the bride, dressed in a long blue ruffled net dress and Junior Hill, brother of the groom, in long white trousers and dark coat. They further marked the aisle by white ribbons connecting the flower baskets. Next in line were the ushers, Mr. Harold Shanklin, of Channing, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Don Bowie, of Wichita Falls. These were followed by the brides maids, Miss Evelyn Shanklin of Pampa, also cousin of the bride, and Miss Margaret Esther Hill of Amarillo, sister of the groom. Miss Shanklin was dressed in peach colored organza with blue sash and slippers and a coronet of blue corn flowers. She carried an arm bouquet of peach and yellow gladioli tied with wide chartreuse satin ribbon. Miss Hill wore a dress of Alice blue organza with peach colored sash and slippers and a blue corn flower coronet. Her flowers were light pink gladioli tied with chartreuse satin ribbon.

Miss Martha Nell Lang of Tyler, foster sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She was dressed in yellow organza over satin carrying an arm bouquet of orchid gladioli tied with the chartreuse ribbon. Her coronet was of yellow columbine.

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She was the ideal bride, dressed in white organza over white satin and carried a bride's bouquet of Briarcliff roses. She wore a cap fashioned of the point lace bertha which was a part of her mother's wedding dress, thirty-three years before. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful wrist watch.

The bride's party was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Kellar Muse of Hereford, Texas. Dr. Grimes, pastor of the Polk Street Methodist Church of Amarillo, Texas, performed the double ring ceremony using the impressive rites of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The bride's mother wore a dress of ivory lace and blue with a pink rose corsage. The groom's mother was dressed in dark blue lace with a corsage of salmon pink gladioli.

Other members of the house party party were Mrs. Pattie Whittenburg Ashby of Canyon who presided over the bride's book, Misses Lou Ella McDade of Dumas, Marguerite Rose, Odessa, Frances Alice Clark, Canyon, Ann Millen, Boise City, Oklahoma, Betty Dale West, Memphis, Ruth LaFon, Clarendon, Alleith Elliston, Canyon who served refreshments, and Mesdames Frank Monroe and Davis Hill who acted as general hostesses.

The beautiful bride's cake and small individual cakes were baked by Miss Vera Crawford, a life time friend of the bride. These were served with punch to the three hundred attending guests.

COMMISSIONERS COMPLETE EQUALIZATION ON TUESDAY

The Commissioners' Court completed its work as a Board of Equalization on Tuesday. Few tax payers made protests regarding the change in their valuations.

Very few changes were made this year, excepting among those who had lowered their valuations from past years. In such instances it was necessary to raise the values back to the prevailing rates of last year.

On the whole, commissioners believe that the tax rolls will show a greater decrease in values than the total of raises which were made.

New Addition To Cousins Hall Almost Complete

Only the last details remain to be finished and the new addition to Cousins Hall will be complete.

The twenty-four rooms in the new addition were completed for use at the beginning of the summer term. These rooms, accommodating forty-eight girls, are full to capacity. The bedrooms of the new addition are located on the second and third floors. Each room contains two straight chairs, an occasional chair, twin beds complete with Sealey mattresses and pillows, a study table and a study lamp, a dresser, and two large closets. The rooms have hardwood floors, and there is a rug in each room. On the second and third floors are located the kitchenettes, the pressing room and the trunk room. The indirect lighting system, used throughout the addition, greatly improves the conditions for studying. There are ice water fountains in the halls on each floor.

The reception hall, the recreation room, and the dance hall are located on the first floor. The reception room is furnished in maple. The recreation center is furnished with leather-covered furniture of the modernistic design. The ballroom contains a stage, lights and all necessary equipment for plays, dances, or other programs.

"The Rotarians, the Epsilon Betas, the Pi Omegas, and the college classes use the hall for their entertainments and are lavish in their praise of it," said Mrs. F. E. Savage, supervisor of Cousins Hall.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Bill Sullivan, Jr., Seems to Have Crossed Up Wiseacres Who Declared He'd Never Be the Baseball Player His Dad Was

BY PHILIP MARTIN

IN the sport world it generally is conceded that chips off the old blocks seldom grow to proportions of the original block.

When Billy Sullivan, Jr., whose pater is the famous Billy Sullivan, star receiver with Charley Comiskey's White Sox of yesteryear, signed with his father's alma mater in 1931, scribes and veteran baseball men alike were agreed that the youngster would fail to make the major league grade.

And after he had been shunted from the White Sox to Milwaukee to St. Paul to Cincinnati, with a brief period of retirement from baseball thrown in, they were sure of it.

Billy, however, had ideas of his own on the subject. He had hit well enough with the Sox and had played first base satisfactorily, but when Lou Fonseca was appointed boss of the White Hose, Lou took over that position himself.

Sullivan was assigned to the catching job without the increase in wages he thought he had a right to expect. Result: mutiny.

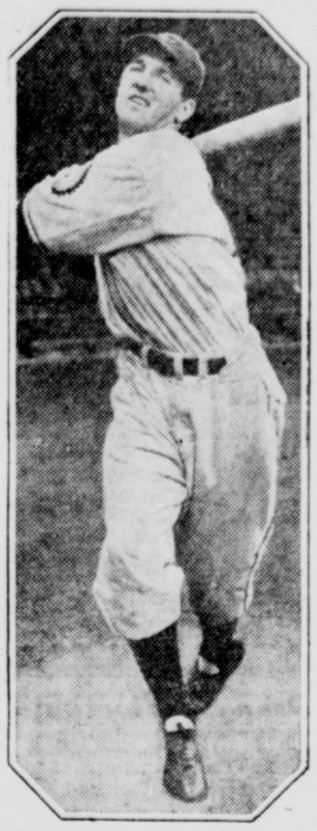
HE later relented and caught in about 10 games, but his previous trouble with Fonseca caused him to be shipped to the Milwaukee Brewers on option.

The following season—1934—Billy rapped out a .343 bat mark and major league scouts were hot on his trail. Chicago still wanted him. But when the Sox mailed him a contract calling for half of what he had received a couple of years previously, Billy said "no, thanks" and went into temporary retirement.

The White Sox sold him to St. Paul. He still refused to report because of the close relationship of the St. Paul club to the Sox and again he was peddled, this time to Cincinnati.

There, Billy was used only to ease the burden for the aging



Billy Sullivan, Jr., . . . right now he's swatting the ball harder than his famous father ever did—and that's plenty hard, as many an old-timer can testify.

Jim Bottomley. He didn't click in the relief role and asked the Reds' permission to sell his services elsewhere, to which they consented.

A COUPLE of years before, Sullivan had exacted a promise from Steve O'Neill, who was managing Toledo at the time, to give him a shot at a regular job if Steve ever landed a berth piloting a major league outfit. Steve in the meantime had hooked on with the Cleveland Indians and Sullivan grabbed a rattler up to the Sixth City. He got a contract.

Billy—a strapping 25-year-old lad, with true Irish determination—went to work and won the first string catcher's job away from peppery little Frankie Pytlak, giving the Tribe its finest backstopping since Luke Sewell was vended to the Senators.

Sullivan is sporting a swollen swat average far above that ever compiled by his illustrious pappy. In addition, he has lived down a reputation of being a scatter arm, a term used to denote a catcher who is apt to wing the ball into the outfield in attempts to cut down would-be base stealers.

If Billy can keep up his present torrid pace it is not unlikely that he will occupy a niche above his dad when his final out is recorded.

Enrollment For First Six Weeks Passes 1000 Mark

Records in the office of the Business Manager of the College show that a total of 1005 students have enrolled and paid their fees for the first six week term of the summer session. A comparison with the enrollment figures for the first term of the summer school session last year reveals that the total for this year is far in advance.

Ninety girls are now residing in Randall Hall. The capacity of the hall has almost been reached.

The new addition at Cousins Hall is filled to capacity and a number of women are living in the old section of the dormitory. The total enrollment at the Hall is eighty-one women.

In addition to the regular students, two members of the faculty and a number of visiting lecturers are living in Stafford Hall, the new dormitory for men which was ready for occupancy at the beginning of the second semester of the last regular session.

Harley Sadler and his own company of 40 people will show in Canyon tonight, Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the American Legion. Mr Sadler is the best known show man in Texas, and has come to Canyon regularly for a number of years. He brings a new cast this year, with new plays built around the Texas Centennial theme.

The big feature play of Saturday night is called the best one that Mr. Sadler has ever written.

Swell Swim Suit

Wearing the newest in the season's rubber bathing suit styles, Virginia Paxton, film player, shows that it's much easier for the modern maid to curtsy than it was for the girl of her mother's day. Her white sandals add to the beauty of the picture and form a striking contrast with the suit of turquoise.

WPA Work

street work around the buildings.

It will be possible for officials of W. T., the city and the schools to have all of their projects in by Saturday, owing to the fact that they started several weeks ago to make plans for projects which were needed in Canyon.

The underpass at the depot has been submitted by the Highway department and the Santa Fe under a different project. The city of Canyon has little expense in connection with this project, as it comes under the national program of removing grade crossings wherever possible.

WPA officials of Texas have declared that projects in Canyon were the most worthy of any in the state, and that the local community was getting its money's worth on all of these projects. Visiting inspectors have highly praised the economical manner in which these jobs have been handled, and the high class of projects which have been submitted. With the continuation of WPA for another year, many worthwhile projects will be completed, with the federal government bearing a large part of the expense.
